FRENCH TROOPS MUTINY.

Rising Toul Artillery Barracks Was Suppressed.

Toul, France, March 6.—A mutiny occurred in the artillery barracks here yesterday. The men attacked the non-commissioned officers with revolvers and swords. Several were wounded on both sides before the disturbance was quelled. The mutineers were captured and imprisoned.

War Minister Picquart has ordered an inquiry into the mutiny of artillerymen at Toul, which is ascribed to the character of the recruits, who are from the mining districts.

Artificial Eyes.

The artificial eyes proposed by Ambrose Pare were thin carved plates of gold, painted and enameled to match the sound eye. Glass eyes seem to have been of more recent origin. Pare's suggestion first appeared in his "Methode Curative des Playes de la Teste Humaine," folio 228, Paris, 1561, where he gives four illustrations showing the back and front of a right and left eye.

Squalls.

The difference between a "white" squall and a "black" is that the former causes no diminution of light and is consequently more likely to find a ship unprepared.

THE DOUMA LIKELY TO OUST KRUSHEVAN, THE JEWS' POE.

Many Charges Against Him—Parliament to Reconvene on March 8.

St. Petersburg, March 7.—Parliament did not meet yesterday, pending the reception of M. Golovin, president of the lower house, by Emperor Nicholas today. The next session will occur tomorrow, when the first business to be transacted after the election of the other officers of the Douma will be the verification of credentials, for which the house will be divided into a number of sections in order that the work may be carried out more speedily. Among the persons who, it is believed, will be disqualified is M. Krushevskiy, the anti-Semitic agitator of Kishineff, who is accused of being personally ineligible on account of his bankruptcy and of frauds committed during his election.

SOLD FOR $15,000.

Northfield House Changed Proprietors Yesterday.

Northfield, March 7.—The largest real estate deal made in this town for several years was the transfer of the Northfield house owned and operated by M. E. Yarrington for the past twelve years to Frank L. Sanderson of Boston. The consideration was $15,000. Mr. Yarrington has conducted a model country hotel since he has been in the business. Only two years ago he made extensive repairs and additions which during the last two years have proven insufficient to his increasing trade.

Mr. Sanderson has been for several years a traveling salesman and comes highly recommended.

DENY POPE'S DISCLOSURE

No French Pressure For Spanish Anti-Clericals

VATICAN AND QUIRINAL

Move Toward Reconciliation—War Now Thought to Be Clemenceau's Programme—French Bishops Said to Favor Revival of Negotiations.

Rome, March 7.—The Liberal leaders at Madrid are said to have declared that the reports to the effect that the Vatican is threatening France with counter-disclosures, in connection with the documents which belonged to the Papal Nuncio at Paris, are false so far as the Liberals are concerned. They deny that the French government attempted to intervene in Spanish domestic politics in favor of the anti-clerical programme.

Vatican Peace With Italy?

Bishop Bonomelli of Cremona, the most liberal Italian prelate, who is a strong advocate of a reconciliation between the Quirinal and the Vatican, is visiting here to pay homage to the pope. He had an audience of the dowager queen, Margherita, Monday, and was received by the King Tuesday. Heretofore the Italian bishops when in Rome refrained from intercourse with the government, much more with members of the royal family. Bishop Bonomelli has therefore bridged the abyss separating the Vatican and Quirinal. Although this is not likely to lead to an immediate change in relations, the incident is regarded as significant of the altered times and of how the estrangement with France is gradually drawing the Vatican nearer Italy, which has practically succeeded France as the protector of Catholic religious institutions in the East.

THE BURDET-COUTTS WILL.

Estate of Baroness Valued at Only $395,000.

London, March 7.—The will of the Baroness Burdet-Coutts, who died December 30 last, was probated yesterday, the gross value of the estate being $395,000. The small amount is due to the fact that the baroness gave large sums to charity, and transferred much of her capital to her husband.

Five Firemen in Philadelphia Hurt.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 7.—Fire in the six-story building at 823 and 825 Filbert street spread to adjoining property, causing damage of $100,000. Five firemen were injured by the collapse of a fire escape.

MILLINERY FORECASTS.

Hat Shapes Still Prevail in Headgear. Narrow Braids.

The newest veil is circular in form and made of Brussels net with a border of chantilly lace or of ribbon trimmed plaitings.

Among the spring shapes in straw, flat, narrow braids are more in evidence than the fancy silk straws that have reigned for several seasons.

Hats with wide brims that taper to nothing in front and widen out in some cases to extravagant widths in the back are shown in models of both straw and straw and malines. Bell shaped crowns and brims that roll up high at the left side and are very narrow elsewhere make chic little hats, especially where their severity of outline is softened by ostrich plumes, which, by the way, show no signs of abdicating their place as the most popular hat trimming.

Small and easily molded shapes of leghorn and panama straws will be extensively worn this spring. These hats are bent without rule or reason into becoming lines. No shapes are, however, worse traps for the unwary than these same simple ones of the small type, for unless their lines are exactly right the individual who wears them is apt to look as grotesque and ridiculous as in the small shepherdess shapes or the brimless polo caps that prevailed for a short time some seasons ago.

Black and white effects are favorites in the outing class of chapeaux.

The negligee illustrated is not a specially new effect, but one whose comfort has been well tried. It is made of flowered challis with bands of silk, and when worn over a smart lingerie petticoat is very fetching.

Action Against Scientists of Massachusetts

ATTORNEYS IN CONFERENCE

Service on Mrs. Eddy's Associates on Saturday — Senator Chandler Says the Woman Is a Syndicate Victim.

Boston, March 7.—Action against prominent Christian Scientists is soon to begin in the Massachusetts courts. Yesterday afternoon it was announced that the papers will be served on the defendants Saturday morning. Copies of the bill that were filed in Concord are now in the hands of the printers. The Massachusetts defendants will be Alfred Farlow, William B. Johnson, Joseph Armstrong, and Ira A. Knapp of Boston, and Treasurer Stephen A. Chase of Fall River.

Shortly after 12:30 o'clock yesterday attorneys John W. Kelley of Portsmouth, Nathan E. Martin and Dwight C. Howe of Concord, N. H., arrived at the Parker house and shortly after one o'clock went into conference with Senator Chandler. It is presumed that the matter of the Massachusetts suits was gone over in addition to other matters relating to the action already begun in New Hampshire.

Prior to going into conference the counsel stated that owing to technical matters in connection with the action to be taken attempts to make service upon the defendants in the original suit will not be undertaken for some time. The New Hampshire defendants are Calvin C. Frye, Mrs. Eddy's chief of the household staff; Lewis C. Strang, commonly known as Mrs. Eddy's private secretary; Professor Irving C. Tomlinson, formerly first reader of the Christian Science church in Concord, and now secretary of a field missionary for Christian Scientists, and Professor Herman S. Hering, first reader of the Christian Science church at Concord.

Early yesterday morning Frederick W. Peabody of this city, who has been retained to represent the Boston interests of the petitioners, called at the Parker house and had a short talk with Senator Chandler. Afterwards they went over to Mr. Peabody's office in the Hemenway building and had quite a long conference. After it was over Mr. Peabody would not discuss what took place, preferring that anything to be said should come from the senior counsel. The latter was also uncommunicative as to the conference with Mr. Peabody. Much interest is added to the case in this city because of the retaining of Mr. Peabody.

File's Toothache Drops Cure in One Minute.

He has always been prominent because of the antagonism that he has for Christian Science, having been counsel in actions that have previously been brought against members of the faith.

Senator Chandler stated yesterday noon that he is satisfied in his own mind that Mrs. Eddy is syndicated. In other words he alleges that her name and religious influence have been used as an asset in a business enterprise managed by the defendants in the case.

Mr. Farlow is the publicity agent of the First Christian Science church of Boston, and Messrs. Johnson, Armstrong and Knapp are directors.

Counsel for the petitioners are now trying to learn something regarding Alfred Farlow, publicity agent of the Christian Science church. Up to the present time Mr. Farlow has been especially uncommunicative regarding his past life. Tuesday he said he was born in Orange, Knox county, Ill., and it is alleged that no such town exists. He also said that he was educated at Lutheran college in Knoxville, Tenn., and yesterday two Lutheran clergymen of this city stated that there is no such college.

When told that Mr. Farlow refused to state anything about himself, Senator Chandler remarked: "He's scared, you can't get anything out of him." Continuing, with a suggestive shrug of his shoulders, the ex-senator said: "Farlow has said all he's going to about himself and the church. I expect, however, to find something out about him today."
